GENEVA, Oct. 5.—The League of Nations Council today asked both Italy and Ethiopia to cease hostilities.

The request was contained in a brief recommendation made to both parties, reminding them to respect the League of Nations covenant.

GENEVA, Oct. 5.—Ethiopia, in a new note to the League of Nations, today asked the league council to recommend military sanctions against Italy.

The Ethiopian note invoked paragraph two of article XVI of the League covenant, which reads: "It shall be the duty of the council in such case (if any member—such as Italy—should resort to war in disregard of the covenant) to recommend to the several governments concerned what effective military, naval or air force the members of the League shall severally contribute to the armed forces to be used to protect the covenants of the League."

Arrives Before Session
The note arrived just before the League council was scheduled to meet to consider the report of its committee of thirteen on the Italo-Ethiopian war. The council was believed ready of its own accord to approve steps toward mild sanctions, such as commercial and financial.

Ethiopia's request went much farther than steps League diplomats had planned.

Ethiopia asked the League to fulfill its duty under Article XVI and strive to end hostilities as soon as possible.

Three-Point Program

Geneva, Oct. 5.—The League of Nations council was called to meet at 5:00 p. m. today (11:00 a. m. E. S. T.) to debate the Italo-Ethiopian war, and was expected to approve a three-point program leading to sanctions against Italy but aiming first of all to end hostilities and settle the quarrel.

SOMEWHERE IN ETHIOPIA, via courier to Italian general headquarters in Eritrea (cleared Asmara at 9:15 p. m. Friday, Oct. 4 and relayed via Rome).... This is my second dispatch from Ethiopia.

I sent my first one two hours ago, flashing the Italian occupation of Adigrat, and I will continue to use that "somewhere in Ethiopia" dateline because I am lost, and the name of the place I am writing from is not on any map I have.

I can only describe it as being a few miles north of a line east and west between the taken town of Adigrat and the Ethiopian city of Adowa, the object of Italian determination for years.

Another correspondent and myself were the first two foreign correspondents to reach Ethiopian territory with the Italian army.

Haile Selassie
May Go To Front

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Yielding to the entreaties of his entourage to leave the capital in view of the possibility of air attacks, Emperor Haile Selassie is understood to have replied that he will go to the front, presumably to take over command of his armies, as soon as the opportune moment arrives, a Reuters' Addis Ababa dispatch said today.

Until then, he will remain in the capital.

Meanwhile, the Emperor is displaying complete "sang froid." Although he works 20 hours a day, he continues his custom of playing every day with the children in the royal palace.

WRIGLEY FIELD, CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—With what seemed destined to be a capacity crowd gathered in the stands, the embattled Chicago Cubs and Detroit Tigers were to meet in the fourth game of the world series this afternoon, a meeting that held great possibilities for future and excitement. If the Tigers were to be the winners the rest of the series will be deemed a formality. If the Cubs were to win, everything will wind up in status quo for the day, with the principals tied at two victories each.

One-Day Campaign
Feature Of Jameson
Hospital Fund Drive

A cent-a-day from every employed person in New Castle to help pay the cost of the charity work of Jameson Memorial hospital, is one of the things to be stressed in the approaching campaign to raise $40,000 operating deficit.

A one-day campaign is another interesting feature planned by the campaign committee at its first meeting yesterday.

"Jameson Memorial hospital will not turn away sick poor who cannot pay their own way. Yet the debts resulting from charity care of the sick poor would soon swamp the hospital—in the last analysis would close it if good citizens were not willing to make up such deficits," says a statement issued by the hospital directors.

"Every man and woman who, because of accident or illness, might need the services of the hospital will be asked to help keep the hospital open. This, of course, means every adult, for no person has the slightest forewarning as to how soon he or she will need the hospital." This in brief is the claim of the directors of Jameson Memorial (Continued On Page Two)

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Great Britain rebuffed Premier Benito Mussolini in his offer to "come to terms" with Britain regarding the massed British fleet in the Mediterranean and Red sea areas, International News Service learned today.

Premier Mussolini, through Dino Grandi, his ambassador here, and through Ambassador Cerruti in Paris, appealed for cooperation of both Britain and France in an effort to "localize" the east African war.

Specific Proposals.
Il Duce renewed his pledge to avoid any step which might lead to expansion of the war—with a European war the constant fear.In particular, Il Duce, it was understood, made two specific proposals:
1. "The parties concerned," meaning Britain and Italy, should simultaneously withdraw their "precautionary measures"—their massed fleets in the Mediterranean, since "no danger exists there."2. If this is done Italy would give assurance she would not withdraw from the League.
To this Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign minister, replied, via Grandi, that Italy's military action in Ethiopia made it difficult, to say the least, to make any progress toward a settlement.

Britain Firm.

Sir Samuel also made it clear that there had been a grave and very unfortunate misunderstanding in Italy of Britain's position and her attitude during the entire Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

Sir Samuel totally ignored Il Duce's suggestion for simultaneous cancellation of the "precautionary measures" in the Mediterranean, it was learned, indicating Britain will remain firm in her intention of being prepared for any eventuality in the war area.

Grandi read a telegram and per- (Continued On Page Two)

STUBBORN DEFENSE

Warfare Tactics Of Ethiopians
Cause Trouble To Advancing Italian
Army.

By International News Service

A stubborn Ethiopian defense of Adowa in the face of repeated Italian attacks featured the east African war today as invading Italian forces closed in methodically along three fronts.

A report that Adowa had fallen was published in Berlin but remained unconfirmed elsewhere, including Rome, where the population was prepared to launch a great celebration on receipt of official news the town had fallen.

It was plain from all dispatches that Ethiopian warriors in the north, engaging in their traditional guerilla warfare tactics, were making the Italian advance southward a difficult one, despite the great power of the Italian planes and modern land equipment.

Sweep Up From Italian Somaliland
Italian forces swept up from Italian Somaliland and captured Dolo, strategic southern Ethiopian town, and also closed in from the northeast, in the region of Mount Mussa Ali, toward Dessye, north of Addis Ababa.

Italian planes were reported to have bombed Dessye, less than 200 miles north of Addis Ababa, and to have flown over the town of Haya Fetchie, only 70 miles north of the capital.

The Ethiopian government insisted that not only Adowa, but also Adigrat remained in the hands of the defenders, despite Italian reports yesterday Adigrat had been taken.

Ethiopia charged Italian planes today swept low along the northern frontier towns, "massacring" women and children with a withering machine-gun fire.

Flee Addis Ababa
Europeans fled Addis Ababa, fearing imminent bombing by invading Italian planes. Count Vinc. Italian minister, declared he may remain in capital for duration of war.

The League of Nations committee of thirteen convened and prepared a report to be presented to the council later in the day aiming at ending the hostilities, if possible, and if not at starting moves toward sacking against Italy.

Action Follows Threat To Abduct McCormick And Cummings For Ransom

DEMAND IS MADE FOR SUM OF $30,000

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—As the result of abduction threats two of Chicago's wealthiest citizens, Harold F. McCormick and William C. Cummings, are under constant guard of police and federal agents, it was revealed today.

Each of the two intended victims has received four notes, it was learned, demanding $30,000. In addition Cummings, president of the Drovers' National bank, has received five telephone calls.

All of the notes were written by the same person, police said. The extortionist was to have called at the Cummings home yesterday to obtain the $30,000. Police and federal men were hidden in the house, but the extortionist failed to appear.

Foreign Accent
The caller, police said, spoke with a pronounced foreign accent. His conversation was almost always: "Have you got that $30,000 ready? Told that the money was being held in readiness in the home he declared: "You better pay it. We'll call for it."

The tenor of the notes was unvarying, investigators said. In crudely formed block letters, written in pencil on a cheap grade of paper and unsigned. They read:

"We have been thinking a long time about kidnapping you. But we want to give you a chance. Pay us $30,000 and you will be in no danger. If you don't you will be in trouble plenty."

Bomb Town Near Addis Ababa

Seven planes were in the expedition, Reuter's said.

Heavy Bombardment

Dessye is where the Ethiopian empress has her summer palace.

Still Hold Towns
ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 5.—Ethiopian defenders of Adowa and Adigrat, principal Italian objectives in northern Ethiopia, still were holding out today despite new and withering air raids by Italian planes which used bombs and a raking machine-gun fire, according to official Ethiopian government announcements.

(Editor's note: Dispatches from the Italian front claimed Adigrat fell yesterday, although the Italians admitted Adowa still was in hands of the Ethiopians today.)

One of the last barriers to unrestricted warfare between Italy and Ethiopia fell today when the government shipped out the last 50 Italian missionaries, nuns, and traders.

Fear Bombing At Capital
A dozen trucks, accompanied by a heavy escort of policemen and members of the imperial bodyguard, accompanied them to the station this morning for what may be the last train out of here.

Momentary bombing of Addis Ababa is feared, and many other Europeans also rushed to board the train.

The secretary of the Italian legation saw his fellow countrymen off, but neither Count Vincini, the Italian minister, nor other Italian diplomats were leaving today.

Their position remained obscure, and a tug of war between Premier Mussolini and Emperor Haile Selassie continues to see which will be the first to break diplomatic relations.

A handful of Italian missionaries remaining will be put in a concentration camp.

Two Italian Officers Killed
London, Oct. 5.—Ras Seyum, Ethiopian commander in the north, telegraphed Addis Ababa today that Italian forces have reached the towns of Wegeto and Enguela, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch.

The telegram also stated two Italian officers, a captain and a lieutenant, were among those killed.

KENSINGTON, Wis., Oct. 5.—The strike of Chicago milkshed dairy-men claimed its first life today.

Herman K. Slater, 41, a farmhand was run over and killed by a milk truck as it broke through the squad of 200 pickets seven miles south of here of which Slater was one.

Slater was standing on the right of the three-lane road as a fleet of eleven heavily loaded milk trucks roared down on the human blockade.

He was brushed to the concrete by the fender of the first truck. The second truckman also swung aside, but before Slater could rise the third rolled over him. He was killed instantly.

Students Strike For New School
Protest Being Forced To Attend Temporary School In Hotel
(International News Service)
OHIOPELLE, Pa., Oct. 5.—Striking Ohiopele high school students, who staged a wholesale walkout yesterday protesting against further classes in an old hotel building, today blamed "red tape" in the federal government's alphabetical agencies as the reason for their plight.

Backed by their parents, the children, disgusted with the hotel-school furnished with picnic tables and benches, declared they refused to return to school until their old school, which was destroyed by fire a year ago, was rebuilt.

Little had been accomplished in obtaining funds since the fire, the children claimed, because of "red tape."

The school board, headed by Cora L. Mitchell, announced a modern eight-room stone building accommodating 250 students was planned.

ETHIOPIA ASKS LEAGUE ACTION AGAINST ITALY
teen, which is the council, minus Italy as an interested party, met this morning in a short session and prepared to meet again at 4:00 p. m. to finish up its report and draw recommendations.

Diplomatic circles believed the council would adopt the committee's report rapidly and then take up paragraph one, Article XVI of the League covenant, which provides for the first steps towards sanctions against an aggressor.

Plan Proposed
In discussing this, however, the council would seek:

First, to halt hostilities.

Secondly, to renew diplomatic negotiations for a peaceful settlement, and

Thirdly, to draw up principles for solution of the conflict.

Representatives of the smaller powers telephoned their governments for specific instructions on the action to be taken at this afternoon's crucial council session.

A request probably will be made to both Italy and Ethiopia to cease hostilities. An immediate reply will be requested, it was learned.

Italy's reply is expected to be negative, whereupon beginning Monday, Rome is expected to be declared technically a violator of the League covenant.

Rapid convocation of the League assembly would follow for the purpose of discussing application of sanctions.

The assembly was adjourned, rather than dismissed, last week specifically to be ready for an emergency call such as this.

CHICAGO CUBS TO BATTLE HARD TO EVEN SERIES
go, was reduced to shooting the works with "Tex" Carleton, who was beaten to a quady pulp by the Tigers in the 1934 series.

Detroit, meantime was gambling with Alvin Crowder, largely because Schoolboy Rowe worked in relief yesterday and it was figured that Tommy Bridges, winner of the second game, needed further rest in order to be right for the pay-off game when that time comes.

That time will be tomorrow, in case the Tigers were unable to take the next two, but, although the odds were 2 to 1 on them to win the championship, many believed the Cubs, having lost a game yesterday that they should have won at least twice, were due to come back this afternoon.

In any case, Chicago fandom, who failed to provide a sellout yesterday because many seats wound up in the hands of speculators, were out in force today. The bleachers were on the verge of capacity an hour before the game, whereas yesterday there were certain sections near the foul lines without a single occupant. The indications, anyhow, were for a 50,000 crowd, sending the total receipts soaring up toward three quarters of a million dollars.

UNIQUE METHOD
A wayfaring man, offered shelter over night by a Kentucky mountaineer, was puzzled to know where to lay his weary head in a one-room cabin harboring a good sized family. He watched with interest as the wife of his host tucked away the six children, two at a time, in the one bed, removing them to a place on the floor as soon as they were sound asleep.

"Your bed is now ready for you," said the head of the house. The tired pilgrim was soon in slumberland. When he awoke in the morning, he was on the floor, with the children, and the parents held possession of the bed.

WHAT MAKES EMPLOYMENT?

AT Boulder Dam the president said: "We have come to the point where private industry must bear the principal responsibility of keeping the processes of greater employment moving forward with accelerated speed."

As though replying directly to the unjust implication that industry was deliberately retarding recovery by keeping men out of work, C. L. Bardo, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, made public the results of a survey showing an increase of employment of 4 per cent during the summer months instead of the normal decline of 4 per cent, or a net gain of 8 per cent.

Moreover, this gain was registered from the time the National Recovery act was declared unconstitutional by the supreme Court, indicating that business would get on its feet as soon as the government got off its neck.

American industry will put men to work when it is possible and profitable to do so, without urging from the administration. It would like to give employment to everybody out of a job and able to work, for that is how industry prospers. Even the government, which is profiting from increasing revenues from accelerated business activity, is no more anxious than is business to take up full unemployment slack.

But the first essential to re-employment is the removal of restrictive legislative barriers, since the primary factor in making business unprofitable is misguided governmental policies.

ANOTHER BOON-DOGGING EPISODE

Pressing on to new pinnacles of paternalism, the Roosevelt administration has decided to guide the untutored minds of the residents of Stockton, Cal., in the selection of reading matter.

From its $1,700,000 boon-dogging fund the WPA has decided to spend $1,300 to maintain a corps of literary advisers in the Stockton Public Library to help the patrons select "appropriate material for reading."

Thus far, however, the Brain Trusters have overlooked the opportunity of allocating additional funds to psychoanalyze the readers in order to determine accurately what books will or will not be appropriate to their particular needs.

MEXICAN FEMINISM

The plan of President Cardenas for woman suffrage in Mexico pleases Americans, who take that sort of thing as a matter of course, but arouses doubt as to whether Mexican women are ready for it.

Cardenas is rather cautious, proposing the vote only for "working women" at present. That is to say, women earning wages in business, industry or agriculture. The great mass of Mexican women, both in city and country, apparently remain untouched. If the experiment works well, the vote will be extended to all eventually.

Needless to say, this enfranchisement will hardly make more than a ripple at present in the life of so primitive a country as Mexico. Its chief value will be educational. It should raise the intelligence of the nation in civic matters.

STAR OUT OF THE WEST

There is no little significance in the fact that Governor Alfred M. Landon, of Kansas, is being widely mentioned for the Republican presidential nomination in 1936. The hand of destiny, of course, has not yet fallen upon the shoulder of the mid-western executive. But there's much talk about his availability.

Why the interest in Governor Landon? What reasons have the Republicans for regarding him as a strong candidate?

The answer is two-fold—sound state economy and effective fiscal management.

Kansas, under the Landon leadership, is operating on a balanced budget. It has adopted the pay-as-you-go principle. It has avoided unnecessary emergency taxes. It has put its affairs on a business basis, eliminating non-essential services and cutting the cloth to fit the purse.

Naturally, a man who can accomplish these things is an attractive offset to reckless spending, vast borrowing and de luxe administration of the Rooseveltian type.

If Governor Landon were to make the race for white house honors, he would enjoy the support of many an American who is sick and tired of political spending under various guises.

STILL DRAWING PAY

Three months after the National Recovery Administration was knocked into a cocked hat by the supreme court decision in the Schechter case there were still 2,760 persons on its payroll. Reports were that the organization had been skeletonized, that its main continuing function was research. But its bones were draped with a handsome coat of currency—worth in round figures about $7,000,000 a year.

Senator King, who has been inquiring into the matter, reports that it has four employees each getting $8,500 a year and eight each getting $8,000. Altogether there are 35 who are drawing down salaries at the rate of $6,800 each, nine who are getting $6,000 each, 36 who are getting $100 a week each, 99 who are getting $4,500 each. These figures take no account of the subordinates nor do they include the $427,000 a year for the legal staff of an institution which to all intents and purposes has been declared legally null and void.

"All of this goes to show," says the New York Sun, "how much more benign the government is as an employer than private business could afford to be. In a well-conducted private concern, a branch which was found practically useless would not be, three months after the discovery, still sucking the bank account for $7,000,000 a year. If research were the only thing it could do the management would reason that a lot of research can be bought for one-one-hundredth of $7,000,000 a year."

But bureaucrats never figure things that way. Having in mind the taxpayer their motto is:

"While they still can tax the slob

"We shall always have a job.

"It is reported around Washington that many NRA employees are making eyes at the Social Security Board now in process of formation. Doubtless a good many will be taken care of there, or in some other alphabetical agency. But taken care of most of them are sure to be."

Speaking of the danger of a few people controlling so much wealth, how about the Brain Trusters down at Washington controlling $5,000,000,000 in spending money?

Bombed, Burned, Razed.
Usual Start Of War.
Mussolini's Great Speech.
Sclausie At His Window.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

WAR NEWS begins as you might expect. Mussolini kept his promise to start at Addwa, where Italians were defeated by Ethiopians forty years ago. Italy set fire to Addwa with bombs from airplanes, probably specially arranged bombs made to spread fire, with a substance which burns better when you throw water on it.

Civilized nations will learn all about that fire unless they end war. "Italians repulsed in Agam" will encourage Ethiopians. They will be discouraged by "Italy attacking on four fronts, many killed by bombs."

THE ETHIOPIANS made a savage attack, but "eight hundred of them were mowed down by machine guns." Airplanes, safe in the sky, machine gunners protected by bullet-proof shields, their guns firing six hundred bullets a minute, will do this war's fighting.

It will be an unpleasant war, unless England means to go through with promises to Ethiopia. She should not encourage a feeble nation to attempt war against modern weapons, and particularly AGAINST MUSSOLINI.

At the moment England reminds you of a well known comic character named "Mr. Wimpy" whose customary remark is:

"Let's you and HIM fight."

MUSSOLINI spoke to twenty million Italians gathered in Italy's public squares and to the people of the world. You could not mistake the meaning of that voice.

Newspaper men, gathered near the radio, said:

"His voice made the shivers run up and down our backs, although we could not understand a word of it."

Shivers do not often run up and down those backs.

BLACKSHIPS of the revolution. Men and women of all Italy, in the world, in the mountains and on the seas, listen!

Thus he began a speech.

THAT "INFERIORITY COMPLEX" "The trouble with me," says the Sad Young Man with the dirty collar, "is I've got an Inferiorty Complex."

"What's holding me back," moans the Serious Young Lady whose hair needs washing, "is my Inferiorty Complex."

"What gets in my way," says I, who never can remember to buy a new pair of garters, "is that I'm naturally lazy and a genius at putting off until tomorrow the things I should do today."

I've heard a lot about the Inferiorty Complex since I grew too old for G. A. Henty thrillers and took to reading solemn tomes about what's inside of us and what makes us tick and how many million stars there are in the infinite-finite heavens.

I've flopped many a time and been ashamed of myself. But I've never as far as I can remember, blamed myself on that Inferiorty Complex we hear so much about.

In fact I've wished more than once that I had an Inferiorty Complex of my own—because an Inferiorty Complex doesn't hold you back. It kicks you ahead! It puts you out in front! It makes you do things! It rides with iron hooves over your timidity and your laziness and your cowardice—and sets you on top.

If a man has an Inferiorty Complex, he says to himself: "I must show people how wonderful I am. I must get something done before I die. I must invent something, discover something, win a battle, write a song, do a dance, beat a drum, make my name shine in the heavens—and force people to turn and look at me as I pass by."

An Inferiorty Complex is vanity. It is not fear of action, although it is fear of being thought inferior. It tramples, it elbows, it battles madly, it is often a selfish thing—and sometimes it makes men and women do cruel and ridiculous things. But it is real, it is alive, it is something we can work with and use. It is no dull, useless lump. It is Rich Quartz, with streaks of gold running through it.

The Flagpole Sitter, the Human Fly, the man who ate sixty hard-boiled eggs at one sitting, the man who makes a million, the soldier who leads the charge, the poet in his garret, the lad on the football field, the transatlantic flyer—all these may be said to have an Inferiorty Complex. It forces a shabby Corsican kid to be a Napoleon. And sometimes I think it made an Abraham Lincoln out of a gangling backwoods boy. An Inferiorty Complex is not so bad if you know how to use it.

A sweet young "deb" was taken to see her first ball game. It was one of those games in which everything went against the home team. At the beginning of the ninth inning, when the score was 27 to 3 in favor of the other fellows, the sweet young deb clapped her hands and exclaimed: "Aren't our pitchers swell? They hit the clubs no matter where those boobs hold them."

Men who make a lot of promises and don't make good on them will lose out soon, no matter what kind of bull they sling to keep people from thinking anything but good of them. All promises should be fulfilled.

The great trouble in this country is that people will not listen to men who have been doing a lot of thinking and work, but they will listen to some birds who are known only for their words backed by nothing. Don't listen to the demagogues.

SPANKING BEST DISCIPLINE
While it is seldom applied any more many people and some parents still believe in the old adage about "sparring the rod and spoiling the child." Mrs. John S. Reilly, prominent author and lecturer, is of similar opinion. She says sound spankings, preferably administered during the child's burst of anger, still constitute the best form of child training.

The mother of seven children herself, she believes old-fashioned spanking (hair brush, slipper, razor strop or whatnot) should remain a vital part of parents' equipment in rearing children. There is no age limit, she says, but she does not mean brutal beatings. Her method calls for spanking "in the place the Lord meant for it," which does not harm but does lots of good to most youngsters who need it once in a while.

WOMEN IN POLITICS
What does the future hold for women politically? Will there come the day when a large number of the fair sex hold down state government's chairs, when two-thirds of the membership of the House of Representatives will be women, when half the veteran members of the United States Senate are dignified elderly ladies, when the occupant of the White House is "Madam President"? No, that day will never come in our time, if we believe the prophecy of Rep. Mary T. Norton, Democrat of New Jersey, who is the ranking woman member of the House. She is so discouraged about woman's future in politics that she declares we'll not even see a dozen women in Congress at one time, unless the women get busy and put their theories of good government into practical action.

The man with a roving disposition may not get anywhere, but he passes through a lot of places.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—President Roosevelt made it clear at San Diego that his administration will try to keep far outside of any European conflict.

But at the very moment he was saying that, Great Britain was hinting that economic sanctions against Italy could not be effective unless the United States joined in.

"Economic sanctions" is a polite term for economic warfare.

To "apply" economic sanctions to a nation is to cut it and its people from every available source of supply. It means, to starve a nation, an entire nation.

Economic boycotts were applied to Russia when it became communist. They were applied to Germany and other central European powers during the war. Economic sanctions can best be applied by the wealthy nations against the more dependent nations. They require large navies to enforce. And they mean nothing less than a subtle, cruel form of war.

Sons Of Legion Plan Busy Fall

Football Teams Are Pro- jected At Meeting Last Evening In Legion Home

Last evening's meeting of the Sons of the American Legion held in the Legion Home, was one of the most interesting yet held, fifty sons of Legionnaires being present.

Plans were outlined for many activities which the organization will promote during the fall and winter season.

Two football teams were organized, with Bill McClelland and Bob Campbell as captains. Plans were made to organize and drill for the coming Armistice Day celebration.

A Halloween party was also projected, with Bob Speed being named chairman of a committee to complete arrangements, assisted by Bill Vogan and Dick Klingensmith.

It was voted to meet again on October 20 for the next meeting.

order we shall respond with measures of a military order. To acts of war we shall respond with acts of war.

"Until the final proof, I refuse to believe the people of Great Britain wish to shed their blood and thrust Europe toward catastrophe in order to defend African countries universally stamped as barbarous and unworthy of existing among civilized people."

MUSSOLINI reminds Italy's former allies now enrolled in the League of Nations, threatening attack on Italy, of their delight at Italy joining them in 1915, and reminds them of "Italy's 670,000 dead, 400,000 maimed, and 1,000,000 wounded," and he reminds them with good cause, that:

"When the nations gathered around the table of avenging justice, to us fell the crumbs of the sumptuous colonial booty for the others."

Mussolini, addressing himself to "the generous French people" as a sister Latin nation, does not believe they "can associate themselves with sanctions against Italy."

He might remind them that Italy's neutrality at the beginning of the war, protecting the southern French border from attack, enabled France to release all her power against Germany in the northeast.

Mussolini does remind France that if France attacked Italy now, "six hundred thousand Italians who died heroically in assault, under the admiration of the enemy commanders, would rise from their graves under the soil which covers them."

THE PRESIDENT assures the nation that on this occasion America will not meddle with what does not concern it.

What will the United States do about selling food to Italy, if through "sanctions" the League of Nations tries to starve out the Italians, as Germany was starved?

News coming in as this is written indicates that Mussolini has carried real war to Adowa, scene of Italy's defeat in the last century.

"Adowa bombed twice from the air, seventeen hundred reported killed."

Another report: "The town of Adigrat is reported razed."

These brief dispatches should enlighten American "early victorians" who assure you that "airplanes will not be important in war, at best can only be auxiliary aids to infantry on the ground."

Swivel-chair generals and "walk-the-deck" admirals, discouraging a united American air force, should interview the ghost of Ethiopian soldiers that were "on the ground" until Mussolini's war planes appeared.

THE UNFORTUNATE Emperor Haile Selassie, encouraged by England to listen to no compromise, already has compromised, already has learned about modern war.

No wonder a reporter, interviewing him yesterday, found him at the window of his palace, telescope in hand, watching for Italian airplanes. The unhappy prospect is that he will see plenty of them.

REPORTS of Adowa bombed twice, with 1,700 killed, and Adigrat razed to the ground, should make England thoughtful about her own principal cities, particularly London and its Buckingham Palace, Stock Exchange, Bank of England and House of Commons.

Italy has only a small flock of bombing planes especially built "for colonial work," located now on an admirably selected air base, on a hill captured yesterday within Ethiopia's borders.

Mussolini's real air fleet is at home, within a short flight of London. And London undoubtedly is where the fleet will fly if England forgets the power of the sea, and rules so long by her, is no longer important.

Relying on the fact that Italian planes "have no right to fly over neutral territory" is as foolish as for Americans to rely on the two oceans instead of relying on modern defense.

ITALIAN planes need not fly over neutral France or Spain on the way to England. They can fly over the Straits of Gibraltar, twelve miles out to sea, beyond any nation's domain, then turn north and strike London by daylight or in the dead of night, two hours after leaving the Mediterranean.

It does not seem probable that Great Britain will invite that visit by firing the fatal first shot, or reducing Italy through starvation "sanctions" to prove that the ancient English song, "We've got the men, we've got the ships, we've got the money too," loses importance in the face of a desperate enemy who has GOT THE AIRPLANES.

LATEST REPORTS yesterday described the bombing of three Ethiopian towns, with 2,800 killed or wounded. There crosses the usual story of a Red Cross hospital bombed, but that, like other stories of children's hands by German soldiers, like all "horror-news," must be taken with several grains of salt.

France is said to have agreed with England to put financial pressure on Italy. Neither will lend any money to Italy anyhow, so that, probably is unimportant.

French Troops To Protect Railroad

Leave French Somaliland For Dire-dawa In Ethiopia

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Two hundred white French troops will leave Djibouti, French Somaliland, for Dire-dawa, situated along Djibouti-Addis Ababa railway in Ethiopia, a Reuter dispatch from Djibouti stated today.

Under normal conditions, there is a large European population at Dire-dawa.

In view of reports that Italian forces aim to cut the French-owned Djibouti-Addis Ababa railroad, thus severing Ethiopia's only modern line of contact with the outside world, the projected departure of the French troops to Dire-dawa is considered significant.

Matheny Is Asked To Accept Post

Asked To Acquaint Non-Property Owners With Proposed Bond Issue

At a meeting of the Taxpayers Executive Committee, opposing the proposed city issue, it was decided to ask Attorney Marshall G. Matheny to serve as a "committee of one" to acquaint the voters of New Castle who do not own property, on how the proposed bond issue would affect their interests, it is announced.

"This move" said Chairman Weingartner, "was in response to a request from non-property owners, opposed to the bond issue. They feel that their interests are not identical with property owners but desire to be represented in the matter."

Mr. Matheny was not present at the meeting but is known to be opposed to the bond issue and it is expected that he will accept the assignment.

The Taxpayers Executive Committee is an outgrowth of a mass protest meeting presided over by Judge J. Norman Martin recently at the court house. George T. Weingartner was selected as chairman and John S. Abel as secretary.

THE "UNTOLD STORY" TOLD

Promoters of the $1,500,000 bond issue for a municipal electric system recently issued a booklet under the name "Electrical Consumers League." It is entitled the "Untold Story."

The booklet, in its attempt to prove that New Castle taxpayers should assume a further burden of $1,500,000 to put the city into the electric power business, named twenty selected cities having municipal power systems and gave the inference that electricity costs in those towns were lower than in New Castle.

We have ascertained the FACTS about those cities which the "League" holds up as shining examples of municipal ownership and are giving them herewith.

It is the practice of politically operated municipal power systems to make up their deficits in one way or another through taxation. When the electric rates in such a town are low, the reason for it is practically always found in the TAXATION the citizens are compelled to bear. To get the TRUE picture it is necessary to examine BOTH electricity costs and taxation.

We have taken the cities cited by the "Electrical Consumers League" which, presumably, are the best examples they can produce; have looked up the electricity charges as quoted in the recent report of the Federal Power Commission and used the tax rates prevailing in the respective cities.

We find that in FIFTEEN of the twenty cities, the electricity charges are HIGHER, NOT lower than in New Castle and for the five in which the rates are lower, the difference is more than made up by TAXATION.

The exact figures, using 40 K. W. H. of electricity per month, and the taxes on a $5,000 home, are as follows:

	Annual Cost of Electric Service—40 KWH Monthly	Taxes for General City Purposes on a $5,000 Home	Total Electric Cost and Taxes
Jamestown, N. Y.	$16.80	$71.50	$ 88.30
Kansas City, Kans.	19.20	45.15	64.35
Springfield, Ill.	22.80	49.75	72.55
Pasadena, Cal.	21.60	36.55	58.15
Tarentum, Pa.	28.32	35.75	64.07
Chambersburg, Pa.	30.24	18.00	48.24
London, Ont.	15.84	86.52	102.36
Ottawa, Ont.	15.84	86.32	102.16
Jacksonville, Fla.	33.60	48.75	82.35
Danville, Va.	28.80	46.25	75.05
Eugene, Ore.	21.60	Not Available
Tacoma, Wash.	18.24	49.25	67.49
Frankfort, Ind.	24.00	Not Available
Marquette, Mich.	24.00	Not Available
Columbus, Ohio	18.96	38.25	57.21
Grove City, Pa.	24.00	37.50	61.50
NEW CASTLE	21.60	34.50	56.10

It will be noted that Chambersburg, Pa., is the ONLY city of the twenty in which the combined electricity and taxation costs are lower than New Castle, but it will be noted also that Chambersburg's electricity cost is 30% HIGHER than New Castle and that the difference in total is due to the exceptionally low taxes. The population of Chambersburg is 13,788. The city's Burgess receives only $30.00 per month and the councilmen receive no compensation, which may be a factor in the city's low taxation.

Other misleading propaganda issued by the promoters of the $1,500,000 bond issue in the booklet the "Untold Story," will be corrected in future advertisements.

We appreciate the response to our appeal for funds in our advertisement of Thursday, but can use still more. Any contribution made our treasurer, John S. Abel, 314 Washington Street, will be appreciated.

FANS READY FOR FOURTH GAME OF SERIES

Detroit Tigers Win Third Game

Manager Grimm Uses Three Pitchers To Win Third Of Series

ROGELL SCORES ON WHITE'S SINGLE

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. — Having plumb the depths of tragic-comedy, the world series of 1935 was prepared to go into an advanced or violent stage today. It was committed to starting its fourth game by pitching Alvin Crowder, for Detroit Tigers, and Tex Carleton, for the Chicago Cubs, with the anticipated execution something terrible to behold.

Carleton was the man who faced the same Tigers last year and was blasted out of the box in a few minutes. Crowder started the opening game of the 1934 series but did not finish. Outside of that, everything was just lovely today.

The occasion started with the Tigers one game in front as a result of winning an eleven inning thriller in the third game yesterday by 6 to 5. Nobody expected the Tigers to win this one, not even I, suspect, the Tigers themselves. They were down 3 to 0 at the end of five innings but suddenly went crazy against Bill Lee's pitching in the eighth. Meantime, the Cubs went crazy on their own account. Cavarretta chasing a runner almost to second base while Fox scored the fourth run of the inning.

Then the Cubs tied it up with two runs in the ninth against the relief pitching of Schoolboy Rowe. Speaking of that, it may be said that the term was well taken. It was relief when he stopped.

Break In Tenth
The Cubs should have won in the tenth when Lindstrom doubled and Hartnett sacrificed. Home critics claimed that Hartnett should not have been in there sacrificing. But everybody was still arguing this morning as to whether Lindstrom, with one out, should have broken for the plate on Demaree's out to Rogell. The important point was that Lindstrom did not.

Barring that and Jo-Jo White's single that drove in the winning run in the eleventh, all further testimony was no more than just another port moriem, except for the fact that, in losing one ball game, Manager Charley Grimm used up his three top pitchers, Lee, Warneke and French.

That was the reason he had to gamble with Carleton today. The latter ordinarily was no more than a nickel pitcher in a spot like this but, as the Cards fell, he was cast in the role of either an ace or a duce. Warneke, after pitching an inning and two-thirds yesterday, could not and should not be brought back today. After all, they had to hold him until the fifth and what may be the final issue of the series. Moreover, it was a terrible thing to see the Detroit batters discover that the pitcher who had shut them out in the first game could hit.

Lindstrom Errors
French, meantime, was eliminated by going two innings to lose the ball game, although that ignominy really belonged to Woody English, substitute infielder. As a result of bickering himself off the premises, he made the Cubs start the tenth inning with Hack at shortstop, Lindstrom at third, and Demaree at center field. Hack thereupon failed to get off the ground on Rogell's smash in the eleventh and it went for a single. Lindstrom played another ball badly for an error, after which Demaree juggled White's single and then threw wide to the plate on the winning run.

Chased From Game
There was so much in this game, including the fact that Grimm, English and Stainback, of Chicago, were cast out of the game and so was Coach Del Baker, of Detroit, that great catches by Galan and Demaree were overlooked, yet they cut off three runs in the early innings.

However, that was yesterday's porridge. Today, for the fourth game, the weather was clear and bright but chilly. The crowd, which yesterday barely exceeded 45,000, thus forcing the speculators to mutilate their own tickets, figured to be a little better. In the first place, it was a half holiday. In the second, they have learned by now that a reported sell out at Wrigley field was and is no more than a legend.

Warren Upsets Martins Ferry

(Special To The News)
WARREN, O., Oct. 5.—As 9,000 excited fans looked on, Warren high school's football team, which lost 19-0 to New Castle last week, upset the dope by defeating Martins Ferry, 12-6 at Warren, O., Friday night.

This marked the first defeat in 18 games for Martins Ferry. Outplayed throughout the contest Martins Ferry opened up a variety of passes that resulted in their only touchdown in the last period. Martins Ferry high plays New Castle high at Taggart Stadium, Saturday, November 9.

Tigers Capture Third Game Of Series 6 To 5

White Singles In 11th Inning To Bring Victory To Tigers

ROWE IS GIVEN CREDIT FOR WIN

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—At the close of a wild fantastic day, Jo Jo White singled to center in the eleventh inning Friday afternoon, driving in Owen with the run that won the third game of the world series for the Detroit Tigers over the Chicago Cubs. The final score was 6 to 5, the Tigers first taking the lead with a four run rally against Lee and Warneke in the eighth inning.

Then the Cubs came back and tied it with two dramatic runs in the ninth, pinch hitters Klein and O'Dea coming through with the necessary punch.

Rowe Halts Cubs

This rally came at the expense of Schoolboy Rowe who finished out the string after Auker and Hogsett had been dismissed.

Rowe finally outlasted the situation and bared down nobly to halt the Cubs in the tenth and eleventh.

The victory gave Detroit the edge in the series of two games to one, thereby greatly distressing a partisan home crowd of more than 45,000.

They are not without distress in other directions, too, for Manager Charley Grimm used up three of his first string pitchers in a vain attempt to carry off what was recognized as the key game of the series.

In addition to monumental "bones" were committed by the Cub infield. On one of these, Cavarretta chased the base runner almost to second base while a vital run scored. On another, Lindstrom stood on third base and made no effort to score while Rogell was throwing out Demaree with the second out in the tenth inning.

Many Banished
All told, it was a bizarre occasion, marked by bitter bickering between the umpires and players of both clubs. Manager Charley Grimm of Chicago was ejected from the game by Umpire Moriarty for complaining quarrelously about a decision at second base in the sixth inning.

Before the Cubs recovered their composure over that one, Woody English and George Stainback also were waved out of the park. Earlier in the game, Baker, a Detroit coach, was put off the field for arguing with Umpire Quigley on a play at third base.

At that point, it didn't look as though the Tigers had a chance. The Cubs had gone out with a three-run lead and Lee was systematically mowing the Tigers down, having held them to five hits up until his collapse in the eighth. However when the young man blew, he made a complete job of it. First he walked White and then Gehring doubled to right. Immediately, Goslin singled to right and the tying runs were in, the ball hit first base and bounded high over Cavarretta's head. However, this was not too unusual for a game as such as they were playing.

Score Two Runs
Goslin's hit drove Lee out of the game and brought on Warneke who had put the Tigers out in the series inaugural at Detroit. This time he was not so successful, Fox and Rogell's singles to drive in two more runs before the end of the inning. This made it look very much like the Tigers' day but Chicago pulled a tingling counter-rally to tie it up in the ninth. Here Cavarretta expired harmlessly but Hack singled to center to start the fireworks.

At this point Klein was inserted to pinch hit for Jurgens and obliged with a single to left. Another pinch hitter O'Dea was put in for Warneke and he likewise delivered with a hit, driving in Hack and sending Klein to third. The latter scored the tying run on Galan's long fly to White.

Lineup Scrambled
As a result of all this shifting about the Chicago presented a scrambled lineup for the tenth, Lindstrom going to third, Hack to shortstop, Demaree to center field and Klein to right field.

Shenango Wins From Mars 41-0

Visitors Are Smothered By East New Castle Team Friday

IRVIN CROSSES LINE THREE TIMES

Displaying mid-season form, Shenango high school's Blue and Gold clad gridders ran rough shod over a determined Mars high eleven, Friday afternoon, on the Shenango high field. Coach Phelps' proteges romped off the field with an impressive 41-0 triumph.

The East New Castle team lost no time in crossing their opponents' line. Mars kicked off with Tanner receiving the pigskin well down the field. After two line plays, Ketzell sneaked his way around left and raced over for a touchdown. A five yard penalty for being offside deprived the Shenango team of a touchdown. Tanner tossed a pass to Fee who made a first down.

Another pass, Tanner to Fee was good for 24 yards as the oval rested on the 10. This same Tanner flipped a pretty pass to Irwin, right end, who caught it over the line for the first touchdown. Tanner threw the ball to Irwin for the extra point. Score, Shenango 7, Mars 0.

A short time after the second kick-off, Woods, for Mars, ran through center for 6 yards. On the next play, he tossed the ball to Amino. Bulisco intercepted on the 50 yard chalk mark and ran beautifully behind perfect interference for the second Shenango touchdown. Tanner knifed his way through center for the second extra point. Score, Shenango 14, Mars 0.

Mars took the ball in the early stages of the second period and found their aerial attack weak. Three passes failed and then the visitors punted. The Shenango representatives partially blocked the kick. The ball was on the 15. Ketzell sliced right tackle for 7 yards. Tanner bucked the line hard for five more yards and a first down. On his next attempt, through the line, Tanner failed to get through the line, Shenango players blocked the kick and fell on the ball. From the 10, Tanner hurried the ball to Irwin who carried under it and scored the fourth touchdown. Tanner again hit the line for the extra point. Score, Shenango, 21, Mars, 0.

Near the end of the period, the bewildered Mars gridders took the ball in mid-field, on downs. Coach Gregory's team again tried a pass. Bulisco, who in the initial quarter intercepted a pass on the 50 and scored, duplicated the feat, this time catching the ball on the 45 and bringing the remaining yards. Tanner's pass was knocked down for the extra point. Score, Shenango 34, Mars 0.

At this stage, Coach Phelps sent in a number of substitutions. In the beginning of the final period, Mars threatened to score, bringing the ball to the third, on a pass Woods to Cooper and a long scamper by Woods. Coach Phelps sent in his first stringers who held the visitors to downs. Shenango took the ball and marched up the field to the 40. A double pass Tanner to Ketzell was good for 30 yards, bringing the ball to the goal line, but Shenango was off-side. On two plunges by Ketzell, and another by Tanner, Shenango carried the ball to the one foot line, where Mars took the ball on downs.

The visitors kicked to the 36. Tanner flipped the ball to Fee who carried it to the 19 before being halted. On the next play, Tanner hurled the ball to Irwin who took it over for the final touchdown. Tanner successfully hit the center of the line for the extra point. Final score, Shenango 41, Mars 0.

The East New Castle team looked impressive. Despite the fact that the visitors seemed inexperienced, the Shenango team presented an offensive attack that would have troubled most any Class B team. The work of Tanner, and Bulisco in the backfield, was outstanding. The entire Shenango line was spectacular. Irwin, right end, scored three touchdowns. Woods and Cooper were Mars' best bets.

Next Friday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock, at the Shenango field, Mercer will oppose Shenango.

Following is the summary:

Notre Dame At Carnegie Tech

Features College Football Card In District This Afternoon

By VICTOR J. JACOBS
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 5.—Laggard entries hop aboard the van today as the state's collegiate eleven move along a full front into an increasingly rigorous schedule.

The feature of today's program, which brings several new teams into action, is scheduled in Pittsburgh where Notre Dame pays an annual visit to play Carnegie Tech in the thirteenth renewal of Irish-Tartan rivalry. Barring the surprises of which Tech is capable, coach Elmer Layden optimistically looks for the Irish to crush his way to victory.

Two decades of icy aloofness between the athletic departments of the University of Pennsylvania and Princeton will be melted into warm friendship when Penn and Fritz Crisler's Tigers launched their campaigns in what shapes up a close struggle.

Pitt's incensed Panthers, still snorting from the halter placed on them by the little Waynesburg, hope to turn their grievances out the hide of Simon-Pure Presidents of W. & J. In a game at Little Washington that represents another episode in a long standing traditional rivalry.

Bob Higgins unveils the team he believes will thrust Penn State back into the national football spotlight at State College against Lebanon Valley. Smattering under last week's setback, Duquesne faces another stiff rival in Rise Institute a Houston, Tex.

Scheduled also are Westminster at Mt. Union; Clarion at Allegheny; California Teachers at Edinboro; Indiana Teachers at Lock Haven; Muhlenberg at Lafayette; Western Maryland at Villanova; Delaware at Dickinson; Lehigh at Haverford; Juniata at Gettysburg; P. M. C. at Franklin Marshall; Shippensburg at Kurtzwood and Davis-Elkins at West Virginia U.

Jokinen will thus have to lie in bed while his mates are battling Johnston today.

WASHINGTON HIGH WINS
Washington high football team, the New Castle high opponent here Friday night, October 11, will be tough this year, as shown by the 24 to 0 drubbing handed to Braddock high at Washington on Friday afternoon. Renewed Recovery Is Evident In Trading This Morning

By LESLIE GOULD

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—New York City Traction and the copper shares set the pace for a renewed recovery in the stock market today. Interborough, Manhattan and B. M. T. rose from one to more than two points on the news that a virtual accord on unification had been reached.

A rise of 20 points to 9.05 cents a pound in the foreign price sent the copper shares soaring under the leadership of Anaconda and Kennecott.

U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and the general run of industrials gained fractionally. American Can, though, dipped 2 points.

General Motors and Chrysler changed hands in thousand share blocks for fractional gains.

Columbia Gas was a strong spot. Chemicals were higher as were oils, and building shares. Liquors, food and specialty shares were steady.

Commodity markets were mixed. Wheat rose fractionally while cotton dipped about 25 cents a bale. Bonds were firm but the dollar was slightly easier.

Gibbons Advances Into Ethiopia With Italian Forces

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The dispatches of Floyd Gibbons, world famous headline hunter of International News Service, reach New York headquarters of the service, from where they are instantly flashed over the vast network of wires across the country, after a tortuous journey from the advance posts of the Italian army in Ethiopia.

Gibbons today is with the Italian forces besieging Addowa and right now probably is within rifle shot of that Ethiopian city. As he moves forward, writing as he goes, Gibbons turns his dispatches over to military couriers, who take them back to field headquarters. There, after passing the inspection of a censor, the dispatches are sent to Asmara, Italian base in Eritrea.

Another censor probably checks the work of the front line officer there and then the dispatch is wireless to Rome, where it is delivered to the Rome Bureau after it has passed through military headquarters.

From Rome the dispatches are flashed simultaneously to New York, Berlin, Tokyo, Buenos Aires and other distributing points.

However, it should not be reasoned that the coldest temperature which does not cause freezing is the best. Though the apple will not freeze until several degrees below the freezing temperature of water, still these very low temperatures may prevent the development of normal quality in the fruit.

This was found to be the case with McIntosh in recent experiments in New Hampshire. Held at 30 degrees Fahrenheit, the storage life was prolonged beyond that at 32 degrees, but normal quality was never developed. About 32 degrees is considered the most satisfactory temperature.

It is a bigger problem, however, to avoid excessively high temperatures during the fall and early winter. Respiration of the fruit itself generates heat, estimated to be enough to melt 700 pounds of ice for each 1,000 bushels of fruit at 60 degrees during a 24-hour period. Aside from this, enough heat to melt 6,000 pounds of ice must be absorbed to reduce the temperature of the fruit from 60 degrees to 40 degrees F.

With the common or "air cooled" storage particularly, the critical period is during harvest when large volumes of warm fruit are put into storage and during the following 4 to 6 weeks when comparatively warm weather usually prevails.

Some growers partially overcome this difficulty by setting the fruit in the shade as it is picked. It is allowed to cool overnight in the orchard and is then hauled into the storage in the early morning before it has become warm.

Good ventilation in the storage further helps to accomplish this same purpose. Doors, windows and ventilating shafts should be so arranged that the air will move through the entire length of the room, thus bringing a fresh supply of cool air to each fruit. A slatted false floor raised 6 to 10 inches above the storage floor and an open space of 4 to 6 inches between the fruit containers and side walls will facilitate circulation. There should be a space of about one foot between the fruit and the ceiling.

Incoming air is quickly cooled by the earth floor of a storage. Thus in cooling fruit, even though the outside air is warmer than the storage floor, the apples may often be cooled more quickly during the daytime with doors open than with no ventilation. Of course, the doors should always be open at night until there is danger of freezing.

If the sun shines directly into the storage when the doors are open, they should be closed during warm days or a vestibule built over them for shade.

CAN USE LOW PRESSURE STEAM FOR MILK PAIS

A low pressure steam sterilizer which can be used for milking pails on the dairy farm has been designed by J. E. Nicholas, of the agricultural engineering department of the Pennsylvania State College.

Milking pails can be sterilized at 215 degrees Fahrenheit for any desired length of time in this equipment. Heating the utensils up to this temperature might be considered as sufficient, because after the heating is turned off the temperature remains above 180 degrees for a long time.

'Showboat' Will Aid Boys' Work

Kiwanis Club Eager As Rehearsals Begin For Revue
At Cathedral

MARTIN COACHING CLUB'S OWN CAST

Seldom has such enthusiasm attached itself to the early rehearsals for a local stage production as that which the Kiwanis Club "actors" are manifesting at evening practices for their musical revue, "Showboat," to be given at the Cathedral as a benefit for their underprivileged boys' work activities on October 17 and 18.

If music and singing rise up around North Mill street near North street these nights you can be sure the Kiwanis men, the "foot-lights" for the coming show, are going through their workouts.

Director William Martin, whose talent has pointed the road to success for the past Y. W. C. A. Cathedral shows, is the showman now coaching the Kiwanians for the presentation of "Showboat."

Promises To Draw Crowd
Elaborate and spectacular "Showboat" promises to pack the Cathedral auditorium both nights it is presented.

While it embodies to some extent minstrel characteristics it is really more in the nature of a musical and dance revue, interspersed with novelties of a spectacular comedy nature. All sorts of unusual things occur, such as the ballad singer doing his bit from the orchestra pit. The ushers dance on the stage—and what is most astounding of all, the finale comes first. This, as the master of ceremonies humorously will announce, is so that everybody will have a chance to see it without interruption by some of the audience leaving.

The setting is a courtroom and the utmost novelty and hilarity is provided.

A Real Cast, Martin Says
"We have a real cast," Mr. Martin said today. "The rehearsals are coming along fine. The men can't wait until the show nights, and, if you'd see them, you couldn't either."

The show is featured in the second part by a Dutch scene with "Old Dutch Cleanser" children and a more mature crowd of girls and boys as the Dutch chorus.

Serving as members of the committee handling the show arrangements are the following members of Kiwanis:

Place: Fred C. Wolford, A. R. Kingsbury and Clement D. Parker. Tickets: Hans Drio and H. L. Marvin.

Finance: E. L. Thompson. Advertising: Clarence M. English, A. B. Nashlund, Frank Andrews, A. L. Bantz, Jr., and J. Daniel Reebel.

Music: Harry Hammond.

Talent: R. L. Meermans, Harry Hammond and L. C. Mantz.

Those taken to the penitentiary were Doc Hopkins, who was sentenced from 2 to 5 years for breaking and entering a building, and Isaac Corbett, who was sentenced from 15 months to 3 years for aggravated assault and battery. Nellie Maggi, of Ellwood City, convicted of running a bawdy house, was taken to the workhouse. She will serve four months. Walter Crowley will do three months for dizziness driving.

Mary V. Aiken, use of Pearl M. Mayberry, has filed a writ of attachment at the prothonotary's office against James Mayberry and Pearl Mayberry, in which the sheriff is directed to attach any money or dividends that may be due the defendants from the Pennsylvania Railroad company and the Lawrence Savings and Trust company.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 4, four arrests on charges as follows: Pandhandling, 2; Drunkenness 1 and Violation of parking regulations 1.

Housewives of the city have increased their canning privacies, according to Dr. W. L. Steen, health department officer. He gave this to Safety Director D. O. Davies, head of the department, as the reason for the big increase in the amount of garbage here, which Steen said in a letter to Davies, has jumped 30 percent for the month of September, this year, over the same period of 1934. He said the furnace, which operates without fuel, can consume 100 tons of garbage each 24 hours. In September of 1934, there were hauled and consumed 1,061 and September of this year resulted in 1,244 tons being hauled to the plant and burned. The rush started in August, owing to the canning of fruits which was followed by corn season in September. The department has five trucks, one of which is devoted to tin can collection.

Providing owners of gasoline pumps which set on the curb do not pay their license fee to the city before January 1, 1936, the department of streets will remove the pumps. Some of the owners have not paid the 1935 licenses which has lured the city officials.

Monday night at 9 p. m. the Shengango Tin Mill will send children under 16 years of age scurrying for home. It will no longer be possible for them to tell the bluecoats who ask them why they are out after the curfew hour that they did not know the time. The chief of police, J. F. Haven wanted to play fair with the "kiddies" so he asked D. S. Pyle, the general manager of the A. S. & T. P. here to aid the department by donating the time of a man to sound the whistle. As usual, D. S. cooperated. Children who want to go to the movies or to parties can be out on the streets after that hour providing they have tucked away in a pocket a note from dad or mother granting them permission. Boys and girls not 19 must be in the house before 11:30 p. m. No whistle will be sounded for them.

Tifereth Israel Plans To Observe Day Of Atonement

Yom Kippur Is Explained By Congregation Leader,
Rabbi Pinchos Katz

Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, which is to be observed by the congregation of Tifereth Israel is explained by their leader, Rabbi Pinchos Katz, as follows:

"Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, is the most solemn Holy Day in the Jewish calendar. It is ordained in the Bible (Leviticus 23:27) to be observed on the tenth day of the seventh month, Tishri, which coincides this year with Monday, October 7. It is a day of rest, of fasting, of prayer, of penitence and spiritual quickening. Its principal and immediate purpose is to arouse the consciousness of sin and to stimulate the desire for atonement and for reconciliation with God.

"The Hebrew word for repentance is 'Teshubah,' which means literally 'return.' The concept of sin is that the sinner has strayed from the straight path of righteousness, has transgressed its boundaries and his repentance is not complete until he has returned from his transgression to the true way of life. Confession, contrition, and reconciliation man and God are the elements of a proper repentance which is no mere spasmodic or monetary emotion, but a genuine return to the road of duty unselfishness and loyalty.

"This day is very highly regarded among the Jewish people and is practically universally and unanimously observed. Places of business, offices and factories are closed and synagogues, Orthodox, Conservative and Reform are thronged with worshippers. As with Sabbath and all Jewish holidays the day is observed from 'evening to evening' the service beginning on the eve of the day and on the day itself is continued the whole day. The Jewish people fast on Yom Kippur, remaining all day long in the synagogue, thinking of the dead and the living, reflecting on actions and on duties. One who fasts on Yom Kippur and yet spends the day in joking and discussing sports, and commercial affairs, is completely unconscious of the message of this Holy Day."

Brython Tells Of Welsh News Here

Rally Day Event Was Successful; Sacred Concert Is Being Planned

By WILLIAM A. JOHNS (Brython)

Members of the Emmanuel Baptist Sunday school participated last Sunday in one of their most inspiring rally day services. The church was crowded for the exercises.

Griffith Phillips, the school's superintendent, had charge. He gave the main talk of the evening.

The scripture was read by Miss Munn, a prayer was given by Mrs. W. J. Lewis, a solo was sung by Louis Munn, a solo by Bobby Evans, a reading by Miss Munn, a song by Miss Anna Mae Jones, class, solos by Mrs. Ellen Bame, Mrs. Evan Lewis, Mrs. W. G. Parsons and Brinley Hughes.

Others took part in the services and the event, the most successful of Emmanuel rally days, was enjoyed.

Members of the Sabbath school and friends of the First Congregational church recently met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emrys Davies, at Butler, to wish Godspeed and success to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davies as they left for Florida. They will spend the winter there. The chairman of the farewell event was W. P. Williams. John Harvard offered a prayer for their safe travel.

Plans for a sacred concert in the Emmanuel church on October 13 are now being formulated by a committee, headed by Mrs. Mary Jones. New Castle's leading singers will be asked to take part.

Members of the Star of Wales Lodge, No. 60, True Iovites of America, will meet with President Thomas Grey in charge on Saturday night.

Thomas Edwards, Pico, Cal., the Welsh veteran, wrote Brython this week to tell him that his two nieces, Mrs. Elinor and Mrs. William Davies, Youngstown, are visiting at his home, these days. Mrs. Davies is well known in this city. She and her husband formerly operated a shoe store at South Mill and Long avenue. They are the daughters of the late William Edwards.

New Castle friends were glad to again meet the Rev. Jones, Diamond, O., who came here recently to officiate at the funeral of Solomon Mort on Long avenue. Rev. Jones came to New Castle 41 years ago and was instrumental in forming the First Congregational church. He was its first pastor. Mr. Mort was one of his closest friends.

Among those who attended the Solomon Mort services was Rees James, Welsh veteran 78 years of age. He drove his car despite his age. Brython and Mr. James worked together over 60 years ago at the Upper Forest tin plate works at Morristown, South Wales.

The Rev. Rees T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational church, has returned from Union, N. Y., where he preached at special meetings of a church there. He was invited to deliver the sermons nightly in both English and Welsh.

MRS. HERBERT HOOVER IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

Mrs. Herbert Hoover has been elected president of the Girl Scouts of America at the annual national conference which is just drawing to a close in San Francisco, California. Mrs. Hoover, who has served the organization as Honorary President and Honorary Vice President, succeeds Mrs. Frederick Edey.

TO WRITE SCHOOL SONG

The distinction of being chosen to compose the alma mater song for the newly founded Franklin Springs Institute, at Franklin Springs, Ga., has been conferred upon Lester Bailey, New Castle, prominent in Senior high musical circles before his graduation last June.

He will go with the famous band to New York a week from today when Tech plays a New York school.
